The Devon Horse Show prides itself on playing host to top equitation talent year in and year out. Young riders from across the country must qualify for the opportunity to compete at Devon, so the classes are always a fight to the finish for that blue ribbon. The 2023 ASPCA Maclay was no different, boasting a total of 44, 44, and 43 entries respectively in each section. Olivia Sweetnam, Carlee McCutcheon, and Aeden Mooney stood above the rest with stellar rounds and pristine equitation form both in the flat and over fences.

Sweetnam on challenges on the course:

"I struggle getting a good rhythm to the first jump sometimes, and the first line was a little forward. The last line also had a bit of a blind turn so I just had to go for it."

McCutcheon on her performance:

"It was great. Chacco was amazing in the warm up. He had a long day yesterday so I knew he'd be a little tired and I'd have to work for it. But he's an incredible partner and I'm lucky to have him."

Mooney on Astro De Ravel:

"He's amazing. He's done the [equitation] for a few years and he's such a good partner. He does whatever you want him to do and has a fun personality."

SMALL PONY HUNTERS

Kathryn Padilla and Celebration

Friday was for the ponies! A total of 30 horse-and-rider combinations embarked on the Wheeler Ring at the Devon Horse Show to showcase their skills to the panel of judges in the Small Pony Hunters division. In the hunter divisions, the young ponies are judged on several points including hunting pace, movement, style of jumping and manners. The riders are judged on their positioning, and their ability to communicate and control their mounts. Although these horses and riders are young, they entered the ring with a calm confidence and no fear. The group of talented riders approached each jump in stride and held good form throughout the course. In the conformation class, horses are examined on any conformation defects, soundness, and way of walk and jog/trot. The top spot in the over fences conformation class was awarded to Kathryn Padilla and Celebration, while the top spot in the second over fences class was awarded to Ella Endzweig and Private Message.

R.W. "RONNIE" MUTCH EQUITATION CHAMPIONSHIP

Carlee McCutcheon & Chacco Star | Avery Glynn & Acer K

The R.W. "Ronnie" Mutch Equitation Championship highlighted competition in the Dixon Oval Friday afternoon. Consistency is key if a rider hopes to take home the coveted award. With four classes that focus on both hunter and jumping seat equitation, riders must demonstrate their ability to tackle a variety of challenges and accumulate points to secure the trophy. For the second consecutive year, there was a tie between two riders at the end of the two-day competition. Avery Glynn piloted Acer K to several podium finishes

Thursday and Friday, while Carlee McCutcheon and Chacco Star always seemed to be at the top of the pack. Both riders showed off their dominant equitation form, communicating effectively with their mounts both over fences and in the flat phases. As young junior riders that are just embarking on their showjumping careers, both Glynn and McCutcheon are proving to be a force to be reckoned with and have very promising futures.

McCutcheon on Chacco Star:

"He loves to do anything that's hard - in and outs, S lines, and bending lines. He's really great about following my eye and is a seasoned horse."

Glynn on the R.W. "Ronnie" Mutch Equitation Championship Award:

"I put a lot of pressure on myself because I won co-champion of this award last year as well. I was really trying to go two-for-two and hold myself to the same standard."

Bryn Mawr Hospital

Main Line Health

Well ahead.®

Each year in May, thousands of volunteers come together to staff the Devon Country Fair. It has become one of the largest volunteer run fundraising efforts in the country with the proceeds benefitting Bryn Mawr Hospital.

Each year a donation is made to the hospital that is earmarked for a specific purchase or initiative based on the hospital's highest priority needs. To date, volunteers have raised more than $16,000,000 in their efforts to ensure that Bryn Mawr Hospital remains one of the top community hospitals in the country. Devon's most recent contribution to Bryn Mawr Hospital has been an extraordinary $2 million pledge (payable over 5 years) to the Hospital's For Every Generation Capital Campaign. This campaign will result in a new, state-of-the-art, seven-story Patient Pavilion on the hospital's campus, featuring a new Intensive Care Unit, 12 new operating rooms, a new Labor and Delivery unit, and so much more! Devon's $2 million donation was instrumental in the Hospital achieving their $30 million fundraising goal for this campaign one full year in advance.

The Devon Horse Show and Country Fair is the single largest contributor to Bryn Mawr Hospital. This unique and special relationship is only possible through the dedication of the Devon Horse Show and Country Fair volunteers. Volunteer run committees and booths include The Art Gallery at Devon, the Candy Booth, Devon Derby, the Garden Café, Hamburgers, Hot Dogs, the Midway, Operation Goldmine, Soft Drinks and Ice Cream, Souvenirs and, of course, the Tea Cart. When you are enjoying a tasty treat, a spin on the Ferris wheel or buying a raffle ticket you can feel doubly good knowing that you are contributing to a long-standing tradition of supporting Bryn Mawr Hospital.

VENDOR SPOTLIGHT

Bow River Jewelry is a company that specializes in custom jewelry with a unique equestrian flare. Since 1986, they have created custom made designs with state of the art equipment, hand finishing and quality stones that will last for years to come. "What makes us so unique is that we take today's designs and styles from mainstream jewelry and incorporate it with an equestrian twist. This is our first year at Devon and it has been a pleasant experience thus far." Check out Bow River Jewelry on vendor row next to Clydesdale Corner!

Voltaire has been a mainstay in the equestrian world since its launch in 2010. Many of the sport's biggest riders use their saddlery, and they have a vendor booth present at several major horse shows around the country. If you're on the hunt for a new saddle, make sure to visit Voltaire!

Espoir Equestrian is a clothing brand that specializes in the equestrian industry. With clothing lines available to men, women and children alike, they offer a wide variety of designs and patterns to appeal to everyone's unique interest. Carolyn van Schalkwyk founded the brand on the backbones of hope and resilience. They also offer tack for your horses including breastplates, bridles, boots and halters.

Gypsy Dreams Boutique is your new one-stop shop for equestrian lifestyle home decor, gifts, and more. Owner and founder Kristan has had a lifelong love affair with horses and has always dreamed of owning a Gypsy Vanner Horse.

The boutique is constantly on the move, traveling to several events and horse shows throughout the year. At the boutique you can find everything from clothes and bags to jewelry and toys. Make sure to check out Gypsy Dreams Boutique while on site at Devon.

Windland Farm Art Antiques began 26 years ago catering to the horse show, race track, foxhunting and canine communities with art and antiques. The owner, Nancy Baldwin, offers many unique items as well as human portraiture. She is the official artist for the Pennsylvania National Horse Show and continues to offer larger pieces of art and art on antiques, both furniture and table top items.
