CHAPOT TAKES THE BLUE IN THE $5,000 WELCOME JUMPER STAKE

The historic Devon Show Grounds welcomed back competitors to the Dixon Oval on Thursday morning to kick off the 2023 Devon Fall Classic. Spectators were eager to watch the highlight class of the day, the $5,000 Welcome Jumper Stake Table II sponsored by Breakaway Farm. Entertaining the crowd as they topped the field of 24 competitive duos was Laura Chapot and C & C Willow.

Laura Chapot and C & C Willow had their game faces on as they confidently walked through the arch as the pair went 11th in the order. Aboard Mary Chapot's 8-year-old Irish Sport Horse mare, Chapot proved that the Devon Horse Show is Where Champions Meet. Setting the tone with a textbook double clear round, the duo crossed the timers in the jump off round with a time of 37.734 seconds. Not one pair was able to catch up with Chapot's fast time throughout the entirety of the class.

Following closely behind to capture the red ribbon was Sloane Coles and Ninja Jw Van De Moerhoeve. This horse and rider combination put their all on the table to try and capture the first place title but fell short by 42.614 seconds. Cole's mount, owned by The Ninja Group, is a 10-year-old Belgian Warmblood.

Closing out the top three was Andrew Ross and Cornet's Cobalt. Cornet Cobalt, owned by Ross himself, is a 10-year-old Belgian Warmblood gelding earned the third place ribbon with a time of 44.804.

GODEK DOMINATES $3,000 1.40M

The first day of the 10th Annual Devon Fall Classic Horse Show kicked off with a full slate of jumper competition Thursday, September 14. The famed Dixon Oval on the historic grounds of the Devon Horse Show featured many talented riders and their mounts across several jumper classes, including the $3,000 1.40m Table II.

The class was set to a Table II, 2(b) format which featured an immediate jump off if the rider posted a clear effort in round one. At the highest jumping height of the day, riders and their mounts were challenged to keep a consistent pace throughout the Peter Grant (CAN) designed track to approach each jump in stride. The class featured a 13-effort course that included six oxers and two double combination jumps. The competitors were set to a pace of 76 seconds in the time allowed. For those that qualified for the jump off, the course was reduced to seven efforts with a double combination at jump five.

Of the total entries, a total of two horse and rider combinations posted clear first round efforts to qualify for the jump off and vie for the blue ribbon.

As first in the order of go, Kama Godek set the bar high aboard her own Conny 409 with a double clear effort. The duo set the pace in the jump off at a time of 43.990 seconds.

Godek and the seven year old Oldenburg mare ultimately held the only clear first round until Godek entered the ring for a second time aboard another of her own mounts, Lady Stakkata. Godek and Lady Stakkata put together a faster jump off time, however the pair had an early rail in the round that settled them into second place.

Godek and Conny 409 posted the only double clear effort of the class.
